

destination:

HEALTHTM

Helping you get there from hereTM

The latest addition to the American Cancer Society's guidelines is an annual fecal immunochemical test, such as InSure, for people over the age of 50

Why do I want the InSure[®] colorectal cancer screening test?

Because InSure:

- Replaces unpleasant fecal collection and smearing. Using the patented long handled brush, gently brush the surface of the stool and then collect the surrounding toilet water by dabbing it onto the card.
- Requires no preparation - keep routine medicine and diet.
- Detects bleeding in the colon or rectum, which can be a sign of colorectal cancer

REQUEST THE TEST WITH THE BRUSH.

Ask your doctor if the InSure[™] colorectal cancer screening test is right for you.

FAST FACTS

Colorectal Cancer

- Colorectal cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death
- More than 90% of colorectal cancers are diagnosed in people over age 50
- Colorectal cancer doesn't always have symptoms
- Colorectal cancer can often be cured if caught early
- For more information, visit:
questdiagnostics.com/destinationhealth

InSure[®] is manufactured by Enterix Inc. Laboratory services provided by Sonora Quest Laboratories.

Get Reminded About Important Tests

Tell us when and we'll help you remember. Sign up today at questdiagnostics.com/reminder and receive:

- Email reminders for InSure, and other cancer-related screening tests recommended by the American Cancer Society
- Information about colorectal cancer and other health topics of interest for people over the age of 50

questdiagnostics.com/destinationhealth

Going online gets you closer to your destination: HEALTH

Sonora Quest
Laboratories